

April Report from Communication Committee

We are a loosely affiliated bunch who meet as needed to deal with specific issues and projects. One such project is the uploading of recorded reflections to the website. Originally Neil Stannard experimented with using his iPhone for this, and lately it has been Deb Rice's iPad that has been used. (Neil is now living in the Burlington area, so he can't be available as much.) There are a few gaps in the sequence of Sundays where a service was not recorded, and we apologize for this. It turned out to be a bit complicated to edit out just the reflections and post them. Recently a group of about 20 recordings were transferred to Neil for him to work on, and we hope to have them available on line soon.

On April 30th Marcia Peterson, Dave Sullivan, Geraldine Fowler and I, Deb Rice, plan to meet and discuss how we can update the In Touch newsletter, by sharing ideas among ourselves about formatting.

There is some good news from Norwood Long, who has emerged from his knee replacement convalescence ready to tackle the project of setting up a new recording device in the pulpit, which will avoid the laborious system we have been using, and provide a disk of the whole service which can be borrowed, like when Allan Perkins used to do this. (Our intention was to put just the reflections on the website, as an enticement for people who might find us that way.)

Any members who are reading this and have digital talents they wish to share are welcome to contact Deb Rice or Geraldine and we will invite you to join our next discussion.
